

THE BOOTLEG COAL REBELLION

THE PENNSYLVANIA MINERS
WHO SEIZED AN INDUSTRY
1925–1942

MITCH TROUTMAN
FOREWORD BY STAUGHTON LYND

BOOK RELEASE

“The most detailed account we have of coal bootlegging in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania in the Depression decade. It shows how unemployed miners took over unused mines, asserting and defending a right to mine and market the coal to support their families. Local government, the courts, and whole communities supported their efforts, writing a remarkable chapter in American labor history. We are in debt to Mitch Troutman for telling this remarkable story.”

—Thomas Dublin, author of The Face of Decline: The Pennsylvania Anthracite Region in the Twentieth Century.

Mitch Troutman is a writer, educator, organizer, and jack-of-all-trades living in Central Pennsylvania. He is a direct descendent of bootleg coal miners.
